

STATE OFFICIALS CONSIDER TARIFF

Passage of Underwood's Bill
Will Require New Foreign Agreements.

OLD CONCESSIONS EXPIRE

No Unusual Obstacles Are Expected
During Course of the Negotiations.

With the approach of the final enactment of the tariff bill into law, the State Department is preparing for the big task, imposed upon it by the new measure, of negotiating trade agreements with the foreign nations with which the United States has important commercial relations.

This becomes necessary with the passage of the bill, not only because of the specific direction therein that the President negotiate such agreements, but also because the old concessions, which were made by the United States in the past, are expiring, and the new tariff measure will require new foreign agreements.

Many Agreements Made.—The existing trade agreements were made on the basis of the maximum and minimum provisions of the Payne-Aldrich law. From August, 1890, until March, 1913, the State and Treasury Departments were busy arranging with foreign governments for tariff concessions to the United States, before the maximum and minimum clauses went into effect on the latter date.

As a result of their efforts, President Taft was able to announce that on March 1, 1902, there were practically no discriminations against the goods of the United States when the tariff law, American goods now are practically all under "most favored nation" treatment.

The situation now confronting the State Department is quite different. The new law provides that in case of discrimination against exports to or imports from the United States, the President shall invoke upon the imports from the country making such discriminations higher retaliatory duties. These higher duties are to continue until the discriminatory provisions of tariff law or regulation have been removed.

The operation of this retaliatory feature of the new tariff bill is limited to a certain group of specified articles. These are: fish, smoked, fresh, dried, pickled, or otherwise prepared; coffee; tea; cotton, wool, and man-made fibers; leather goods; silk dresses and silk goods; leather goods; lace and embroideries; of whatever material composed, and articles made wholly or in part of the same; toys, jewelry, precious and semi-precious, and imitation precious stones suitable for use in the manufacture of jewelry; glass, tank, bottom, strip of cane juice, and concentrated molasses, testing by the polariscopes not above 25 degrees; molasses; wool; vegetable oils.

New Arrangements Made.—It is believed that the nations interested in any of the products enumerated as subject to a retaliatory tax will be found most amenable to a bargaining the commercial interests of the United States. The new tariff measure contains provisions outside of the 15 provisions, which are a satisfaction to foreign nations, and it is expected that the new tariff measure will be a source of satisfaction to the United States. The new tariff measure contains provisions outside of the 15 provisions, which are a satisfaction to foreign nations, and it is expected that the new tariff measure will be a source of satisfaction to the United States.

Girl Is Overcome by Gas.—A girl, Miss Nettie Perry, nineteen years old, was found in an unconscious condition at her home, 431 Eleventh Street Northwest, early yesterday morning by her mother, Mrs. Perry. Dr. Murphy and Dr. Hamilton, of Children's Hospital, resuscitated Miss Perry by use of the pulmonary.

A motor-driven machine, operated by one man, has been invented to harvest sugar cane and deliver it ready for the mill.

Pruritis a Severe Form of Eczema

A Method of Home Treatment that is Very Effective.

There is probably no other remedy as well known as S. S. S. for the blood. And it is remarkably effective in that form of skin disease known as pruritis, or intense itching. The action of S. S. S. is rapid. It contains one ingredient, the active purpose of which is to stimulate the tissues to the healthy selection of its own essential nutrient. And the medical elements of this matchless blood purifier are just as essential to well-balanced health as the nutritious elements of the meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food. These facts are brought out in a highly interesting book on skin diseases, compiled by the medical department of the Swift Specific Co., 144 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is mailed free, together with a special letter of advice, to all who are struggling with a blood disease.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. today of your druggist. It will surprise you with its wonderful action in the blood. Don't accept second-hand offers you as "just as good." The only reason why anyone should not try to sell you S. S. S. is the large profit made on something cheaper from crude drugs. Beware of any attempt to persuade you to buy something in place of S. S. S.

LAMAR'S CASE BEFORE COMMISSIONER TAYLOR

Decision Will Be Rendered Monday
Whether "Wolf of Wall Street"
Shall Be Returned to New York.

Decision will be made at 2 o'clock Monday by United States Commissioner Anson S. Taylor whether David Lamar, called the "Wolf of Wall Street," should be handed over to the New York authorities for trial for impersonating members of Congress, and thereby, it is charged, defrauding New York bankers.

Arguments of counsel were heard yesterday by Commissioner Taylor. Mr. Lamar was represented by Henry E. Davis, of this city, who in his argument admitted that Lamar was the man named in indictments, asked that the indictments be dismissed because of imperfections, and then pleaded that members of Congress are not officers of the United States, and that because of that Lamar could not be prosecuted.

ARMOR PLATE BIDS FINALLY REJECTED

Secretary Daniels Believes Figures
Submitted by Three Companies
Are Exorbitant.

CONTRACTS MAY GO ABROAD

Final rejection of the armor plate bids offered by the Midvale, Carnegie, and Bethlehem steel companies was announced by Secretary of the Navy Daniels yesterday. The Secretary held up the bids for a time, hoping that the companies would reduce the figures, which he regards as exorbitant, and also non-competitive, but yesterday decided to reject them altogether.

It is quite likely that the Secretary's action will result in the contracts for the armor plate being awarded to a European firm. Mr. Daniels already has taken this course with respect to the bids on a set of turbine engines, and it is known that a British concern has made inquiries about the pending armor plate contract. It has not yet been decided whether the work will be re-advertised, or whether notices will be sent to a number of firms, inviting them to submit offers.

Secretary Daniels yesterday afternoon left for Jersey City, N. J., where he will go today to look over the tract of land near Communipaw, which it is sought to have the United States take as the site for a navy yard, supplementing or replacing the yard at Brooklyn.

There is no basis in fact for reports that the United States is seeking to buy the newly completed Argentine battleship Rivadavia, according to statements made at the Navy Department. It was explained that the United States Navy wished to buy the Argentine vessel, which was built at an American shipyard. It has no money available for such a purpose, its battleship appropriation providing that the vessel authorized shall be built in the United States.

ROGERS FOR FEDERAL BENCH.

Yale Law School Dean to Become Second Circuit Judge.

President Wilson probably will send to the Senate today the nomination of Professor Henry Wade Rogers, dean of Yale University Law School, as United States circuit judge for the Second Judicial circuit to succeed Judge Payne. President frequently has expressed interest in his countryman, and recently with several leaders to confer an appointment to the Federal bench on "a man of the type of Henry Wade Rogers." After conference yesterday with Attorney General McPherson, the President is expected to send official notice that Dean Rogers' name would probably go to the Senate for the vacancy on the bench of Second Circuit.

It will not be necessary, it is said, for Dr. Rogers to resign as a professor of law at Yale, but he probably will give up his place as dean.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, Washington, D. C., Sept. 17-4 p. m.

The southwestern disturbance has reached the Gulf of Mexico, and is now moving southward into the Gulf of Mexico, with the result that rain continued in the Gulf region, the central and southern United States, and extended into the Middle Atlantic States and New England.

Forecast for Thursday in the Atlantic States, followed by generally fair weather Friday.

The winds along the North Atlantic coast will be moderate and variable, but the Middle Atlantic coast moderate variable, becoming northeast.
